A NEW FOUR-STAR CHIC BOUTIQUE HOTEL HAS OPENED IN THE HEART OF NEATH. WM CHECKED IN TO CHECK IT OUT, AND FOUND LOTS TO LOVE

On arriving at the Bluebell, Neath's only four-star boutique hotel, you know you're in for a treat.

Situated right in the midst of the bustling town centre of Neath, the hotel is a great for a Christmas shopping or January sales stopover, but it's also perfectly situated for exploring the stunning Neath Valley, with its many scenic walks and celebrated waterfalls.

And it's not just the location that is spot on. The elegant interior of the hotel is very contemporary and sophisticated, with lots of glass and solid wood, and the staff are friendly and welcoming. All in all, this hotel is a wonderful addition to Neath – just what we've been waiting for!

THE ROOMS

At the Bluebell all 23 spacious guest rooms have been furnished to a high standard, each being unique. All the usual four-star hotel features come as standard at the Bluebell – en suite bathroom, plasma screen TV, self-controllable air conditioning, hairdryer and hospitality tray – but these are rooms in which you can really kick back and relax in luxury. Imagine a spacious room with the crispest white bed linen, heavenly beds, quality cotton bath sheets, sumptuous bathrooms, dark wood furniture, contemporary statement wallpaper and opulent drapes, and you'll have an idea of how luxurious the Bluebell's bedrooms are. If you're anything like us, you may never want to check out!

THE RESTAURANT

If you are looking for somewhere special to eat in the heart of Neath, whether you're staying at the Bluebell or not, then look no further. The hotel's impressive Mediterranean brasserie, La Mancha, is an exciting and modern restaurant offering a dining experience that is hard to beat in the local area. The place is already bringing in diners from far and wide. La Mancha's experienced team of chefs are very keen on using fresh, top quality Welsh produce, and above all, want to make your dining experience a memorable one. Relax and enjoy your food with a glass of one of the restaurant's award-winning wines. There are also exclusive cocktails, and the finest lagers and spirits on offer.

For after dinner, the hotel's bar is the perfect place to relax and take your pick from the extensive drinks menu.

SPECIAL EVENTS

The Bluebell Hotel is a great choice for those looking for somewhere a little special in which to celebrate the festive season, or any event – big or small. The hotel is currently taking bookings for Christmas lunches and parties, so if you're in charge of where to go this year for the office bash, are looking for a place to celebrate with friends, or want to book a quiet family lunch, you're sure to impress everyone by choosing the Bluebell.

It's not only over Christmas and the New Year that you may want to hire the Bluebell, either – if you're planning your wedding for next year, the Bluebell could be the place you've been looking for. With its unique sense of style and refinement, and service that's second to none, your guests will LOVE the place, and you'll be able to enjoy your day knowing you're in safe hands.
